

CONTINUED PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT (CPD) FORUM

Stay up to date with health and safety changes within the construction industry by attending this CPD Forum.

Who should attend the course

The Forum is designed for anyone holding a Health and Safety Certificate obtained with Site Safe, this includes the Certificate in Construction Site Safety or the Health and Safety in Construction programme (New Zealand Certificate in Workplace Health and Safety Practice, Level 3).

Both certificate programmes lead to a pathway for construction Workers and Managers who want to further their education and career in construction health and safety.

Introduction

The Forum is an open discussion run by a Site Safe facilitator to help learners share information about their organisation or sites. E.g. this may include sharing examples of challenges that have not worked well, also health and safety success stories.

The Forum is designed to assist learners build on the health and safety successes that are already being achieved in organisations across New Zealand.

The Forum will provide an open discussion about the Health and Safety at Work Act focussing on:

- › Duty of a Person Conducting a Business or Undertaking (PCBU) to consult.
- › How to consult, cooperate and coordinate their health and safety activities with other PCBUs on any project.

The Forum will also provide an opportunity for learners to discuss health and well-being within the construction industry.

On the course you'll learn to:

- › Build on your company's health and safety successes and overcome any challenges.
- › Improve your own understanding of the Health and Safety at Work Act and working with other PCBUs to ensure worker health and safety on project.
- › Review health and well-being risks in the construction industry and how they can be controlled.

On completion receive:

- › A renewed Gold Site Safety Card (graduate) that indicates your level of training and gives you access to site (valid two years).

Next learning steps

If you would like to further your own portfolio in health and safety, we offer a range of one and two-day courses that build on the learning you have already achieved. Newer and updated courses offered by Site Safe include the following:

- › Health and Safety in Contracting.
- › Accident Investigation and Prevention.
- › Training and Supervising Workers.
- › Leadership in Safety.
- › Site-Specific Safety Planning.

If any of the above courses are not part of your original certificate, consider them to renew your Site Safety Card access.
