

REGISTERED ELECTRICAL WORKERS

4 CERTIFICATE CREDITS

This is a one-day health and safety electrical competence course. To attend this course, you must already be a Registered Electrical Worker. On completion of this course you will be eligible to renew your Electrical Workers Registration Board (EWRB) practising license and First Aid/CPR.

Who should attend the course

The Registered Electrical Workers course is for registered residential and commercial Electrical Workers, including those who are self-employed. This could include:

- › Electrician
- › Electrical Engineer
- › Electrical Installer
- › Electrical Service Technician
- › Associated Tradesperson
- › Electrical Appliance Serviceperson
- › Electrical Appliance Serviceperson (Endorsed)
- › Electrical Inspector (Can only be assessed by an *Electrical Inspector)
- › Limited Certificate Holder (Applies to Overseas Applicants obtaining their Limited Certificate)
- › Trainee Limited Certificate Holder Apprentice with two years into Apprenticeship

This course is not applicable for Line Mechanics or Cable Jointers.

Course Outline

Electrical Safety

- › Revise electrical supervision
- › Testing appliances AS/NZS 3760:2010
- › Revise Residual Current Devices (RCD)
- › Revise Multiple Earthed Neutral (MEN) Systems
- › Understand AS/NZS 3000:2007
- › Revise Code of Compliance and Certificate of Verification
- › Theoretical and practical competence testing

Health and Safety

- › Shape health and safety culture through positive conversations
- › Take action to improve health and safety on site

First Aid/CPR

- › Covers specific requirements in legislation and codes of practice for the electrical industry.
- › Run by a qualified First Aid/CPR trainer.

ASSESSMENT

ON-COURSE ASSIGNMENT

On Completion receive:

- › Earn 4 credits towards your Health and Safety in Construction Programme
- › Practical testing skills in line with AS/NZS 3000:2007 Section 8 and AS/NZS 3760:2010
- › Competence in First Aid/CPR
- › A Silver Site Safety Card (Passport) that indicates your level of training and gives you access to site (valid for two years)
- › A course workbook detailing the electrical competence training
- › 8 Licensed Building Practitioner points